

GENDER EQUALITY THROUGH THEATRE AND ARTS

POROS ISLAND,
GREECE

YOUTH EXCHANGE

09 - 17 November
2024

WHAT IS "GETTA" ABOUT?

The project aims to bring together 30 young people from 5 different countries to raise young people's awareness and address the stereotypes and discrimination based on gender, which is made by people in the community towards other people or groups.

The purpose of theatre and art methods, as an important tool of free expression and creativity, is to prove that all people have the right to act and express as they want, without disturbing or offending anyone else. During the project's activities, participants will get to learn the roots of gender-based violence, starting from ancient Greece until today.

MAIN OBJECTIVES

- Raise awareness about gender-based violence as an important socially relevant topic since ancient times and stimulate engagement in society and active participation;
- Use theatre and art methods as an effective way of promoting human rights and active participation;
- Promote intersectional dialogue by including young people with different genders, experiences and backgrounds;
- Facilitate the understanding of the society by assisting civil society cooperation and young people's active participation in solving societal issues, such as gender-based violence.

PARTICIPANTS PROFILE

- Each national team will consist of 4 young people (18-30 years old) and 1 group leader (18+ with no age limit).

WELCOME TO POROS ISLAND

The island of Poros is located on the southeastern edge of the Saronic Gulf near the Peloponnese, it covers an area of 23 sq. km. and consists of two smaller islands, Sferia (capital - port) and Kalavria, which are connected by a small canal.

Poros is distinguished by its idyllic beaches and by its dense piny vegetation. The traditional settlement of Poros, built amphitheatrically on the hill of Sferia, with its historic Clock Tower, cobbled streets and neoclassical mansions along the coastal road, offers a beautiful picture of traditional Greek architecture, while the lively waterfront is ideal for afternoon walks.
